IF WE WERE ELECTRIC

NOMINATED FOR THE AWP INTRO AWARD

"The delicious prose of a desperate soul in transit. The keen awareness of place-like an eroticised and even heartbroken Eudora Welty. The brilliant and poetic sensibility of a young Carson McCullers. Undaunted to reveal the ugly mysteries of a queer life. A wonderful collection."

— Bob Glück

In his first collection of short stories, Patrick Ryan delivers ten stories that fashion a tapestry from the ferocious desires of tortured men. His fiction has been published in The James White Review, Men on Men 2000: Best Gay Fiction for the Millennium, Transfer Magazine, Crack and The Porter Gulch Review.
